Area(s) of expertise in relation to communicable disease
surveillance & response:

As a member organization of Field Epidemiology Training Programs worldwide, TEPHINET is in a position to assist programs by bring skilled resources to deal with training, evaluation, surveillance, assessment, control, analysis and reporting of outbreaks and other significant public health issues. Through our Continuous Quality Improvement Program, we can assist programs in the development of surveillance programs including the initiation of a FETP program.

Through our Global and Regional Scientific Conferences, we can offer peer review of outbreak investigation abstracts that may be suitable for publication within the TEPHINET website or in reputable medical journals.

Assistance or services you could offer to the PPHSN:

TEPHINET program is a part of the Task Force for Global health and they can assist in the development of project proposals, identification of potential donors, completion of project applications, and act as a conduit for project funds.
