Republic of the Marshall Islands

Foreword

This small book provides a selection of data that can be regarded as important for getting a snapshot of education in the Marshall Islands. It is divided into three sections: Student Performance data; Enrollment statistics; and a summary of the local accreditation status of all schools

The section on Student Performance provides information on the degree of student achievement of learning objectives. The primary instrument for measuring student performance is the Marshall Islands Standards Assessment Test or MISAT, which measures student proficiency levels on selected important standards and benchmarks from the national curriculum. All students at grades 3, 6, 8, 10, & 12 at all schools in the nation are required to sit the test series.

At grades 3 & 6, the tests cover English Reading, Marshallese Reading, Math, and Science. At the 8th grade level, the tests is called the High School Entrance Test because one of its major functions is in selecting students to move on into the limited space available at the five public high schools. This test has sections on English Reading, Marshallese Reading, Math, Science, & Social Studies. At grades 10 & 12, the tests cover English and Math only.

The second section provides basic information on school enrollment statistics as well as disaggregation into various important categories.

The last section summarizes the accreditation status of all schools in the Republic based on the local accreditation process and standards.

It is hoped that the information herein will be usefull as reference material, a source of information for general understanding of the RMI education system, and a tool for planning.
